WHY BECOME A CMPE MEMBER?

RECEIVE MEMBER BENEFITS

Membership of the association is open to individuals who work with plant and equipment in the construction, civil engineering, quarrying, waste management, plant hire, plant manufacturing and plant services sectors of industry.

Benefits include:

- Freely available and regular information bulletins;
- Invitation to practitioner presentations and exhibitions;
- Invitation to a wide range of social activities;
- Regular 'nation wide' safety awareness events and resources;
- Participation in branch and national meetings; and
- Discounts for insurance.

By becoming a member, you can provide evidence that you are continually improving your professional competence by keeping abreast of the very latest industry initiatives.

RECEIVE CREDIBLE SAFETY AWARENESS TRAINING

The CMPE also offer one of the UK's longest established and most respected plant operator card schemes entitled the Certificate of Competence (CoC). For every CoC card holder, credible safety awareness training through most of our branches at an affordable price. A CoC card holder must always have proof of current safety awareness training and this training must be updated every five years regardless of the life of the CoC. We only use training providers who are both occupationally experienced and competent at plant operation and management.

ACCESS ON-LINE INFORMATION AND GUIDANCE

In the past 20 years, technology has progressed at a staggering rate and today we live in an age of computer science and information management. To keep abreast of this technological revolution and the information superhighway, CMPE has recently launched its new interactive website. Members can now:

- Read about the very latest news and events as they are announced;
- Access high quality on-line educational materials and resources;
- Promote their services to others within the plant and equipment community as well as source products and services on-line; and above all
- Discover how the CMPE can help your business to grow from strength to strength.

DEBATE CURRENT ISSUES FACING THE OFF-HIGHWAY PLANT INDUSTRY

Being part of the CMPE means that you have a voice in matters concerning the plant and equipment industry, for example, legislation, training, machine design and so forth. The association regularly holds open discussions meeting during which members can freely debate topical issues with a broad range of practitioners including representative from leading plant manufactures, scholars, plant managers, mechanical engineers and operators. CMPE members guide the direction of the association and the process of decision-making is transparent. We pursue the best interest of industry only.

Your opinions and views are important to this association. Should you require any further information, assistance or would like to make any comments, then please include these below in the space provided.
